Passengers of La Bretagne Are Afforded Amusing Scene at the Pier.

A SPANIEL AND FRENCH BULL

Former Jumped From Lady's Arms and Slipped His Collar. Big Liner Waits for Finish.

An aggressive King Charles spaniel and a French bull dog were the star performers at the sailing of La Bretagne for Havre yesterday morning, says the New York World. As no actors or states. men were sailing, the dogs got the center of the stage and delayed the ship.

A tall woman, wearing a great fur boa and carrying a muff, walked up the plank with a spaniel as big as a rabbit in her arms. Half way up they were met by a brindle pup, with hanging chops and a face that said: "Don't monkey and a face that said: "Don't monkey with me."

The King Charles, a pampered pet, jumped from the woman's arms upon the bull's back.

The King Charles nipped the brindle, and there was a fine row in a second. The bull dog shook the spaniel off, and, grabbing him by the neck, almost tossed him from the gangplank.

The woman pulled so hard at the leash that her litle dog's collar slipped over his head and he was free.

A confusion of dogs rolled down the plank to the accompaniment of a sonata of ki-yis and a fugue of growis.

When they rolled on the pler the spaniel kinded free and gamy. He began running circles around the bull, nipping at his foe's flanks, while the beauty, with his beavy, lopping jaws, yawned for an opening and said nothing.

The bull's owner, a big man with a fine cost and a silk hat, and the woman who commed the spaniel got mixed up in the fray.

who owner the space of the woman to get on the ship, but she would not desert her Bu-Petp.

The bull seized the screaming spanies by the neck. Then the bull's owner research the little dog and handed it to Look on Hearst as Bryan's Candidate.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BRISTOL, TENN., Jan. 22.—A movement to organize a Hearst Club in Bristol, Tenn.-Va., has gained so rapidly among the labor organizations and the Bryan Democrats that a mass meeting will be held in the Harmeling Theatre to-morrow night, when a club will be organized. The indications are that the meeting will be largely attended. The Hervan men here, who have been enthusiastic for the Nebraskian in two campaigns, now look upon Hearst as Bryan's candidate, and will rally enthusiastically to his support. It is plain, judging from many expressions heard to-day, that these men are not ready to surrender the principles laid down in the Kansas City platform, at least until Colonel Bryan has agreed that a surrender should be made.

edge Messages of Sympathy.

(By Associated Press).

ATLANTA, GA., Jan. 22.—A statement has been issued by the family of the late General John B. Gordon, expressing their gratefulness for the many telegrams received during the illness of General Gordon and after his death.

Owing to the large number of messages received it is impossible for them at to be acknowledged, and the family requests that their appreciation be made known through the press. Grateful acknowledgment is made known to all posts of the United Confederate Veterans, and all Confederate organizations, to individuals and all who tendered their expressions of sympathy.

Congressman Warner recalls the story of a certain railroad employe in Illinois, who combines the duties of station agent and postmaster, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, I liaving given satisfaction by acting as postmaster, but without compensation the congressman for the district procured his permanent appointment. In due course of time the head of the department at Washington wrote the Illinois man that he had much plensure in confirming his position—"the salary to be the same as heretofore."

Much pleased, the agent replied:
"I feel honored, as in duty bound, by the confirmation of my appointment, and am gled to know the salary is to be the same as heretofore, namely, nothing a year; for I'd hate like thunder to have to pay anything."

Tradition has it that when Murrell buried his treasure he was assisted by a negro slave, whom he killed in order to preserve his secret. It is the skeleton of this negro which it is supposed was recently dug up.—Louisville Courier Journal. Lincoln's Spectacles.

Lincoln's Spectacles.

A cherished treasure of Mrs, Andrew B. Carter, of Watertown, N. Y., is a pair of spectacles formerly worn and owned by Abraham Lincoln. They were found in his pocket at the time he was shot by John Wilkes Booth in Ford's Theatre, in Washington, April 14, 1865.

Mrs, Carter's father, William H. H. Koyes, was a private in one of the regiments quartered in Washington then, and was on duty at the theatre on the night of the tragedy.

As Lincoln was placed in the carriage the spectacles sild from his pocket into the gutter, and before Keyes could restore them the carriage had driven away.

away, Keyes afterward sent them to his wife, Mrs. Carter's mother, and they have since remained in the family. The glasses are of the old-fashioned kind, with heavy gold bows and octagonal oblong glasses.—New York World.
